If you have Natural Vision Enhanced installed go to this file location and create a "tune" folder GTAVEnhanced\onigiri\platform\data

Natural Vision Users Install Guide!

In this "tune" folder place physicstasks.ymt file from this mod That's it, it will work!

Thanks @KosherKing619 for this!

Installation Text Guide Download codewalker version 30_dev48+ from https://discord.gg/BxfKHkk (must be this version or above for enhanced

Install OpenRPF from https://www.gta5-mods.com/tools/openrpf-openiv-asi-for-gta-v-enhanced (dont install dsound.dll)

Download scripthook http://www.dev-c.com/gtav/scripthookv/Drag and drop everything from scripthook.zip bin folder into root folder (where GTA5_Enhanced.exe is located)

(if game fails to start delete scripthook.dll and disable battleye. If you are on steam, put '-nobattleye' into your steam launch commands.

click yes when asked about conversion to openrpf

If you are on Rockstar, go into the rockstar settings in the launcher and check "Disable battleye".)

inside your newly created mods folder create a folder named "update"

Using windows explorer Create a mods folder inside your root gta5 folder (where GTA5_Enhanced.exe is located) Head to \Grand Theft Auto V Enhanced\update and copy Update.rpf

Paste update.rpf inside your newly created update folder within your mods folder suport)

Using codewalkerrpfeditor.exe Drag and drop physicstasks.ymt from this mod into C:\Grand Theft Auto V Enhanced/mods/update/update.rpf/x64/data/tune
